PRICE 5 CENTS

A MIXED VERDICT.

RENDERED BY THE BEFUDDLED STAR ROUTE JURY.

The Big Bosses Get Another Chance-No to Brady and the Two Dorseys-Minor and Reredell Convicted, and Turner Acquitted —A Full Investigation to be Had.

WASHINGTON, September 10.-Although Sunday was Friday, according to court record, yet the true character or the day was indicated by the well dressed and larger crowd that filled the trial-room long before the opening of the court. With the exception of Stephen W. Dorsey, all the defendants were vas called to order. In answer to Judge Wylie, the deputy marshal said the jury was not ready, and the court remarked that he presumed that the jury had overslept themselves. At 12 minutes past 10 o'clock be the jury entered, looking rather fatigued. In answer to the usual question, the foreman answere:d "I am not as yet directed by the jury to make a report."

The court—You have not agreed upon a verdict.

Foreman Dickson—Partially.
The court—I do not know but that I shall have to administer the common law in its purity. At common law, the jury was locked up and kept together without light, fire or any comforts of civilized society, and so kept until their verdict was reached. I will consider about this, but will not adopt that course to-day.

The court—Then, gentlemen, the time has come to enforce the common law. Marshal, you will take the jury to their room, and detain them as other juries are detained, until a verdict is reached.

The jury filed out of the room, and the court took a recess until 2 o'clock. At that hour the usual audience was assembled. It included one lady, who sat by the side of J. W. Dorsey. B. W. Dorsey was present for the first time snee the retirement of the jury, but left the room before the court was called to order. All the other defendants were in the room except Brady, who remained in the corridor. The deputy marshal, by direction of the court, visited the jury and soon made a report that the jury stated if the court had anything to say, they would come down; otherwise they would not. The court had nothing to say to them, and smoounced a recess until 10 o'clock this morning, when the court reassembled, and the foreman announced that the jury had reached a verdict as to four of the defendants, but had no hope of coming to an agreement as to the others. The judge again refused to receive the verdict, and adjourned the court until 2 o'clock. At that hour Judge Wylie took his seat, and sent for the jury. When they appeared the foreman, Mr. Dickson, announced that there had been no change since the last report. Judge Wylie then said he had concluded to accept their verdict.

THE VERDICT RENDERED.

The defendants were called and all answered. The foreman then stated that the jury had instructed him to return a verdict of guilty as to Minor and Reredell, not guilty as to Turner and Peck, and that mo agreement was reached as to Brady, Vaile and the two Dorseys. Mr. Merrick objected that, as Peck had been arraigned, he could not be indicted. (He is dead.) The court concurred in this objection and the verdict was so amended so as to omit all mention of Peck. The jury was then discharged. Mr. Williams entered a motion for an arrest of judgentered a motion for an arrest of judg-ment and a new trial for Reredell and Mr. Hinkle made a similar motion on behalf of Minor. Mr. Merrick moved that new bonds be required of Brady, Valle and the two Dorseys, and that the amounts of bends be increased. This motion gave rise to a heated discussion between Mr. Merrick and Mr. Ingersoll, in which considerable bad feeling was shown by both lawyers. The court was obliged to interfere in the interest of pages. Index Wylig appropried terest of peace. Judge Wylie announced that he would, on Wednesday, hear the coun-sel on the motion to bail Minor and Reredel! pending the hearing upon the motion for new trial, and also upon Mr. Merrick's n tions for new and increased bonds for the fendants as to whom no agreement was reached. Minor and Reredell were sent to jail for the present,

PARTING OF JUDGE AND JURY.
After a few words of thanks from the foreman to Judge Wylie for the kindness he had shown them, the judge replied in similar terms, and concluded as follows: "Parting with you, therefore, on these terms of friend-liness and respect 1 have no suspicion, nor does the court entertain any doubt in regard to this verdict as representing the conscientious conviction of the jury. It is not such a verdict as I should have been glad to see, but it is your verdict; it is your work. You are responsible for it. The court is not." THE BRIBERY QUESTION.
Foreman Dickson—As to another subject.

Foreman Dickson—As to another subject. At the close of the proceedings last Thursday, your honor made some severe strictures on the attempts which have been made to bribe certain members of the jury. I stated then that upon the disposition of this case I would present such facts as I have to present. Will I present them in a sworn statement to you?

The Court—No, no, sir, not at all. Your experience may have been different from that of other members of the jury. No doubt it is. That is a matter which will probably be in-vestigated in another way. It does not belong your verdict.

Foreman Dickson—No relation whatever. The Court—No. alf it be true, as has been reported to me by several members of this jury, that efforts to bribe have been made, I think that no more abominable, no more crusurable depth of crime can be named. I think that this is not the place for the court or the jury to talk on that subject. It is a matter which to talk on that subject. It is a matter which ought to be in the hands of the officers of the law, and if any scoundred be convicted of such an attempt (I do not know whether the jury would convict him or not) we shall endeavor to do our duty as a court. Good-bye, gentle-

Mr. Ingersoll-We have no objection to the jury stating who approached them.

Mr. Merrick—Nor have we, and the government will examine the whole matter.

Mr. Wilson—And the counsel for the defense will have a hand in the examination. The government will not make the examina-at 10 a.m.

COMMENT ON THE VERDICT.

The verdict has taken everybody by surprise, and shows that not a single one of the prise, and shows that not a single one of the verdict was right. From the guessers at the verdict was right. From the guessers at the verdict was right. From the first ballot to the last there were four voters against the proposition that the conspiracy was established as to all. These four were Dickson, Brown, Holman and Martin. These ar names appear throughout the twelve different defendants, not unanimously as to innocence nor guilt of any one of the four pon whom no agreement was reached. The venth bullot was the turning one. All after that were like the seventh which was as follows: Guilty as to all. Cox, Damphorn, McCarthy, McLain, McNaily, Martin, Murray, Olcott and Tabrid. Guilty as to Vail—Brown. Guilty as N. W. Dorsey and Vaile—Dickson. Guilty as to Brady—Holmes. Summary of the jury vote—J. W. Dorsey—guilty 10, not guilty 2. S. W. Dorsey—guilty 9, not guilty 3. Vaile—guilty 11, not guilty 1. Brady—guilty 10, not guilty 2.

When he made his offer in court to-day to make a sworn statement in regard to the matter he had intended to take the stand, but on reflection he was sure that the course pursued by the court was the better one, as he would be placed in a false position. There were others of the jury who had been approached from different districtions, but the sums offered were small, from $200 to $300. Special dispatch to The Constitution.

Mr. Marrick, of the government counsel, tonight, speaking of the verdict, said that the vote of the jury on conspiracy stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal, the four being Dickson, Holman, Brown and Martin.

GUARDING A CITY'S TREASURY. Cincinnati Tax-Puyers Trying to Prevent a Waste of Money.

Cincinnati, September 11.—Counsel for the city have given notice that they would file a motion to dissolve the temporary restraining order granted to the tax-payers' league last night to prevent the city controller from issuing his warrant for $1,000, to be used in defraying the expenses of a reception in honor of the national essociation of fire engineers, who will meet in annual convention in this city on Tuesday. The injunction was secured city on Tuesday. The injunction was secured city on Tuesday. The injunction was secured by the officers of the tax-payers' league un-der the impression that the money was wanted and had been appropriated by the municipal boards for the purpose of giving the ward statesmen seats to a big supper and a free car-riage ride through the suburbs, with full sup-plies of champagne and cigars.

The ordinance appropriating the The ordinance appropriating the money went to its final passage in the board of aldermen at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The "boys" feared an injunction, and purposely delayed the passage of the ordinance until that hour, in the hope that the courts would then be closed and an injunction would be impossible. They had the members of the board of public works, who must approve the ordinance present, and the city treasurer. ordinance, present, and the city treasurer had promised to keep his office open until the warrant was presented. It was to be made payable in currency, so as to provide against the possibility of the banks being enoined against paying a check. The officer if the tax-payers' league had learned if this little plan, however, and had he court postpone adjournment un til a telelephone message announced that the ordinance has passed. The petition for an injunction was then presented at once, and the porder of the court forbidding him draw the warrant was served upon the controller within less than half an hour. It was a great disappointment to the gang who were after the money, and they were greatly chargrined. They have now taken a new ack, and in their motion for the dissolving o the injunction they will set forth that the money is not wanted for the purpose of a reception to the visiting firemen, but for ex-penses in showing off the Cincinnati fire

THE MAINE ELECTION.

The Republicans Carry the State by a Plarality from 7,000 to 9,000. Washington, September 11.—Returns from the Maine election are in from widely separated points, and all indicate the vote to be much heavier than in 1880, and heavy republican gains, and the probable election of Robie. At Domariscalta and other points, the greenbackers voted the republican ticket. Everywhere the straight greenback, temper-Everywhere the straight greenback, temper Everywhere the straight greenback, temperance and independent vote is reported as insignificant. About three o'clock a heavy rain set in, but the voting was practically over by that time. All the returns received are favorable to Robie. Nothing as yet has been heard from the congressional vote. The returns from 100 townships in Maine show a vote differing very little in total from that of 1880 but show a little in total from that of 1880, but show republican gain of 2,708 in a total vote 53,000 and a plurality for Robie of 6,272.

SOMETHING THE SULTAN DOES NOT UNDERSTAND. Turkish Indignation at England's Hesitation in Si ing the Military Convention—A New Draft Pre-sented and Hald Under Advisement—The Greek Bandits on the Border.

London, September 11 .- A dispatch from Constantinople to Reuter's telegram company says the difficulty in regard to the final signing of the draft of the Anglo-Turkish military convention hinges upon the question whether the Turkish troops, having arrived at Port Said, will be allowed to disembark or be required to await instructions fron General Wolseley. The porte claims that it has proved its sincerity by proclaiming Arabi Pasha a rebel, and that it is justified in expecting an immediate signing of the convention would Now, England has the temerity to turn round and accuse Turkey of disloyalty, because the porte claims the right to land troops at Port Said. Here the matter rests, pending Lord Granville's instructions. Meanwhile, Der-Granville's instructions. Meanwhile, Der visch Pasha and Baker Pasha have been or visch Pasha and Baker Pasha have been ordered to defer their departure until the convention has been signed. The proclamation against Arabi Pasha has produced considerable agitation among the Arabs as they generally regard Arabi Pasha as the savior of Islam. It is believed that Arabi will promulgate a counter proclamation against the sultan. A dispatch from Egypt states that Arabi has expelled all the Turks and Circasians from his camp. Said Pasha, Assin Pasha and Artin Effendie called upon Lord Dufferin at Therapin Sunday evening with Dufferin at Therapin Sunday evening with a fresh draft of the military convention which was submitted ad referendum. In Turkish official circles the hope is expressed that the convention will be signed on Tuesday. The delay in the conclusion of the conday. The delay in the conclusion of the convention has created a feeling of irritation against England. The Turks accuse the British of deliberately prolonging negotiations on the subject. Germany advised the porte to use moderation in dealing with the Greek frontier question. The differences between Turkey and Greece are still unarranged. The porte refuses to abandon Katalepsi.

THE CONVENTION DECLINED. Special Dispatch to The Constitution,
London, September 11—A Constantinople dispatch to the Times says Earl Granville, British foreign secretary, declines to accept the proposal of the porte to land Turkish troops at Port Said. The correspondent of the Times at Athens telegraphs that he bethe Times at Athens telegraphs that he believes that the Turkish government is purposely preparing a collision with Greece in order to divert Turkish public opinion from Egypt. A dispatch from Port Said to the Daily News states that 100 English men of war and transports used the Suez canal between August 20th and September 6th, by which the canal company realized from tonnage and passage dues 96,000 pounds.

ENGLISH TALK OVER THE WAR. Great Interest in Wolseley's Advance-The Anglo

Turkish Convention a Joke.

London, September 9.—[By cable to the New York Tribune.]—The daily expectation of General Wolseley's advance absoros public interest. The latest accounts indicate that the coming fight may decide the campaign. According to Sir Garnet Wolseley's information. According to Sir Garnet Wolseley's informa-tion no substantial defenses exist between the front and Cairo, except at Tel el Kebir. Ow-ing to transport deficiencies General Wolseley is unable to profit by the rapid advance from Ismailia to Kassassin. Military men consider that had an initial movement been followed Ismailia to Kassassin. Military men consider that had an initial movement been followed with promptitude the campaign would be shortened. The Arabs are good dyke-makers and their lines at Tel el Kebir are enormously strong. They extend eight miles and are defended by black regiments—the flower of the Egyptian army—twelve or fiftern thousand regulars, the same number of irregulars. ast two days. Some mystery attaches to the movements of the Highland brigade, who were kept on shipboard at Ismailia, and a part of the Indian contingent, of whose pre-cise whereabouts there is no information. General Wolseley may be preparing a flank ovement, which the authorities keep dark. It has long been thought probable that a small force might advance from Suez to Cair by the old mail route. Though provision re now going from Ismailia to the front at the rate of two hundred tons daily, the pul lic has not overlooked the remarkable defici-encies of the commissariat transport in the earlier stages of General Wolseley's advance. In many respects this campaign, especially in the quartermaster general's department is inferior to the one in Afghanis-tan, the details of which were not sufficient worked out for feeding the army and for a rapid movement. General Wolseley arrangements may be described as being under microscope. The public scrutinize closely and remark upon the systematic contradictions between the official telegrams and those to the newspapers. The British forces lately have been increased at Alexandria, but the public anxiety is not allayed. The ene my's boldness and the attitude of the inhabi tants provoke apprehensions. Last Satur-day's scare respecting quarantine has been settled by sharp Britremonstrance to the international sanitary commission. Cholera is below the normal level in India. The commissioner's proposal of a twenty-four days quarantining riginated with representatives of the power which desire to embarrass England. Another element was adherence to routine.

Granville showed that England had keenest interest in excluding cholera from Egypt, and indicated that the quaran-tine order would be disregarded. The com-mission consequently changed its line to the present arrangements, which are satis

The Anglo-Turkish convention has become a standing joke. It has been intimated that Port Said is named for occupation by the sul tan's forces, but a difficulty has arisen as to how the Turks will land there. Lord Dufferin also found phrases in the final instrument that were not in the original draft. The Turks showed equal guile in the proclamation against Arabi, which did not state that he was a rebel, but that he merited the name of rebel. Even the powers which originally favored this convention regard it as useless. The most that can come of The most that can come of Turkish occupation is to mark the sultan's systerignty. The British are more opposed than ever to Turkish action. The conduct of Russia causes suspicion in dislocation. Russia causes suspicion in diplomatic circles. The co-operation of France led Bismarck to abandon his original disposition in favor of a congress for the settlement of the Egyptian question. The chancellor fears that a congress night become the medium of an alliance be tween Russia and France. His disposition in-creases in the direction of absorbing England into the Austro-German alliance. Germany will not oppose England, provided she estabeven though it makes changes in London, September 11.—The Exchange telegraph company has received the following: Alexandria, September 10, noon.—Four of Arabi Pasha's officers surrendered this morning to the British picket at Ramleh. They state that fully 3,000 of Arabi's men would do likewise did they not fear that the British would fire on them. They have a Krupp battery which they handled well. The British heavy cavalry pushed them hard and finally captured one Krupp gun with the team and equipment, and a green standard which was taken from a dead standard bearer belowing to one of Arabi Pasha's cruck resbelonging to one of Arabi Pasha's crack regiments. The Salibrgeh contingent were routed, but the others reached Tel El Kebir in fairly good order. The British loss was comparatively small, perhaps eighty kil'ed and wounded. Arabi's plan was well devised, but required better troops to carry it out, although the rebel troops fought better than they have

LONDON, September 11.—The Daily Tele-graph's correspondent at Kassassin views Sat-urday's repulse of Arabi Pasha as a complete urday's repulse of Arabi Pasha as a complete success for the English, who had never calculated upon his attacking them in such a manner. Major Suter, Major Harrod, Captain Sears, Prof. Mitchell, Judge Taylor and Lieutenent Leach were present. A delegation from Cairo, including Congressman Thomas, were given an audience, and they stringly urged the commission to renew operations on the river at the points above Cairo where nothing has been done for a long time, and where the work is very necessary. A delegation from Vicksburg was also present and made urgent appeals for the improvement of Vicksburg harbor. They asked that a recommendation be made for a specific appropriation for Vicksburg in the next annual report to congress, so that the money would be voted and the work performed in the most expeditious manner. They also asked that $25,000 of the messesigned fund. sion is at present in Chicago be voted and the work performed in the most expeditious manner. They also asked that $25,000 of the unassigned fund now at the disposal of the commission should be allotted to Vicksburg at once. The importance of Vicksburg was expatiated upon, and the assertion was made that it was the only harbor of any prominence in the country for which an appropriation had not been made. General Gilmore remarked in reply to a question that action had been deferred in this matter because he did not believe the plans which had been proposed for the improvement were practicable. There was no intention on the part of the comwas no intention on the part of the com-mission to neglect Vicksburg. The case would be taken under advisement and the ap-portionment made as soon as possible. The plans which had been submitted for the work plans which had been submitted for the work at Vicksburg were commented upon, and Major Harrod gave his opinion that the plans of the United States engineer were the most practical and economical. He said the floods of last spring had been beneficial, as they showed what must be contended against in the future. The delegation was again as-sured that an allottment of funds would be made for Vicksburg, and the session adjourn-ed. THE RAIN AND WIND.

The Path of Saturday and Sunday's Cyclone Through Georgia.

New Orleans, September 11.—News from New Obleans, September 11.—News from the lower coast shows great damage from the high water Saturday. At the quarantine the ground was submerged and the people took refuge in the second story of the government warehouse. The water from the gulf was driven entirely over many lower coast rice fields and crops are entirely destroyed where not gathered. The extent of the damage is unknown. The storm at Pensacola was the severest ever experienced there. The velocity been given for the appearance of fever be-tween the lines. The ranches will each of the wind at one time was 55 miles an hour. The quarantine boat Governor Bloxham cap sized while en route from the quarantine station and Richard and Jabez Marlon were rowned. The British bark Roda also car ized. The captain and crew clung to he oottom until rescued this morning. Severa essels are ashore near the quarantine station and on Santa Rosa island. The interior wall of the new opera house was blown down causing fifteen hundred dollars damage.

rain and wind storm visited this section on Saturday night, and continued more or less throughout Sunday. Shade trees in the city were blown down by hundreds. Reports received of much damage to cotton and corn, fences and forests. The Times' special dispatch from Tuskegee says that about 1,000 trees were blown down in that city, and the damage to the crops in the surrounding country is estimated at $50,000. No loss of life is reported. A special from Talbotton (Ga reported. A special from Talbotton, Ga says the most destructive wind and rain storm passed over that section on Saturday night that has ever visited the county since 1856 Great damage to crops and timber is reported.

LYNCHBURG, September 11.—The rains yesterday and last night caused a great rise in the James river and its tributary streams are overflowing the lowlands and damaging the crops and destroying property. Five hundred feet of trestle used in extending the dam across the river at this place was washed away, taking five worknen with it, who, after riding six miles on timbers, managed to swim to shore. The Richmond and Alleghany railroad bridge across the Tye river was washed up, and other damage done along the ines of railroads.

Washington, September 11.—The September report of the department of agriculture on the condition of cotton shows an improvement since the first of August in Virginia, ment since the first of August in Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkanas and Texas; some deterioration in South Carolina, Georgia and the states of the gulf coast to Louisiana inclusive. The general average of August was 94, of September 96, which is the same as in the report of 1880, and higher than in any other station for ten years. Last year the average dropped from 88 in August to 70 in September. The state averages are as follows: Virginia, 90; North Carolina, 88; South Carolina, 95; Georgia, 89; Florida, 83; Alabama, 90; Mississippi, 88; Louisiana, 89; Texas, 101; Arkansas, 100; Tennessee, 89. These figures indicate as they stand a large crop, but from every quarter comes intimation of too much rain for heavy fruiting, too much "weed," some shedding of the bolls, a tendency to rust and a later development of the bolls North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkanas and cy to rust and a later development of the bolls than usual. Under these conditions an early frost would be especially injurious. Caterpil-lars have made their appearance in many lars have made their appearance in many counties of the guif coast states; in some places a second generation is webbing up. While the damage is inappreciable as yet, in most cases fears are expressed that the third brood may do great injury. The boll-worm is reported at many points in Denton county, Texas. Their destruction is estimated at $100.000. $100,000.

Kingston September 8.—Kingston was held in a state of wild excitement here this evening for about one hour. Some parties brought a young steer in town to sell him for beef. While driving him through town he became infuriated, ran over and knocked down the man who was driving him. A negro who was standing near by thought himself able to con-trol his steership. Seizing the rope they were driving him with he soon met with the fate of his comrade. This was not enough to satisfy the bystanders, and this scene did not end until he pressed four victims to the ground. At this time about one hundred people had appeared on the field of action to conquer the steer, who up to this time had held the fort.

THE MAYNE PLACE.

WELL KNOWN FARM NEAR ATHENS

Used a Century as a Watering Place for Travelers
A Small World of Crops-Two Bales of Cotton to the Acre-A Mile of Fifty Sushel Corn Swamp Land Well Cultivated,

From the Athens, Ga., Banner-Watchman A few days since, in company with Mr. J. B. Toomer, we visited our friend, Mr. William H. Dean, the present owner of the famous Mayne place, situated on the Lexington road, about five miles from this city. This spot is known thoughout the state, being for nearly a century a great watering place for travelers. The house sets back in a stately grove, while immediately in front bubbles up a bold spring of crystal water, while stretching as far as the eye can reach up and down Shoal creek, are the very finest bottoms, now verdant with luxuriant crops of corn and cotton. You can stand in the piazza of the house and see stretched before you a small world of crops. Mr. Dean is certainly an enterprising citizen. Besides bringing his fields up to a high state of cultivation, he is greatly improving the place and putting the buildings in splendid repair. He has just completed a new gin house, to be operated by steam, that is certainly one of the most convenient we have ever inspected. It operated by steam, that is certainly one of the most convenient we have ever inspected. It is constructed on an entirely new model, and can be run with much less expense than the generality of them. Attached to his engine he has a wood saw with which he prepares all his stove and fire wood, at a great saving of labor. He also intends to add a corn mill, cotton seed grasher, and, other splendid imcotton seed crusher, and other splendid im-cotton seed crusher, and other splendid improvements to his farm.

When Mr. Dean first took charge of this place the bettom lands had been for t ars thrown out, and were a wilderness of swamp and Bermuda grass. The first thing he did was to cut a ditch over a mile long to confine the creek within its banks, and having a splendid fall he soon had the land drained. But he encountered an enemy, if possible, worse than the water, in Bermuda grass. His neighbors stated that they would not attempt to cultivate the land for all it would make; but he was not to be deterred and began the but he was not to be deterred and began the work of exterminating this enemy to agriculture. First, he purchased a small pony plow, to which he hitched two mule and thus easily turned the sod over, the same being cut with a sword in front of the plow. This accomplished, he waited until a rain had fallen, and while the ground was damp put a revolving harrow to work and succeeded in tearing all the roots loose from the earth, after which its extermination was an easy matter. He says it is folly to attempt to kill this grass by plowing it with rippers, but you must turn it over, so as the teeth of the harrow can get at the roots. The consequence was he made a fine crop the first year, and has certainly got the enemy in a fair way of extermination. He gets rid of bullrushes the same as Bermuda grass.

We took a stroll with Mr. Dean over his crop, and a finer prospect we have never seen. He has about one-third of his bottoms planted in cotton, that is very vigorous and well filled put a revolving harrow to work, and succeed

One patch, belonging to Mrs. Dean, a practical farmer says will make two bales per acre this year. Last season this lady, with her cook, made five bales of cotton, and it was a poor crop year, too. Mr. Dean says that cotton pays him better on bottom land than corn, where it is well drained. We walked through a mile of as fine corn as our eyes ever beheld, much of which will average, it is thought, fifty-bushels per acre. It seems that Mr. Dean will not only be able hereafter to "live at home and board at the same place." but will acre the fide of the fide of the rabbit catship see the rabbit than he bounded from the arms of his master and in three leaps collated his prey and killed him. We inspected her dairy, which is a model of neatness. They churn now about fifteen gallons per day. Mrs. M. has the best invention in the way of a churn we ever saw. It is double, with one compartment for the milk and another for the warm water, with a thermometer to tell when the cream is at the thermometer to tell when the cream is at the right temperature. This lady says it is but a moment's work to bring butter with any churn when it is at the proper temperature.

Fall in Americus.

Undeniably, the fall is the beautiful season of the year. The blistering heat of the summer has passed away, the long, hot days for work and toil on the plantation is over, for the time, at least, the unceasing anxiety of the merchant as to whether he can collect mough money to meet his bills is alleviated the parental care of the mother in regard to the good health of her daughter has ceased the never-ceasing care of the head of the fam ly in regard to the table supplies is slightly ightened, the planter sells his cotton, the merchant his goods, the mother dresses her laughter for fell and winter campaign, pater daughter that and whiter campaign, pater familias buys new potatoes and smiles, the world turns over the bright side up with care, the boys buy new clothes and once more begin the delightful and oft-repeated task of love making, the birds don new feathers, everybody is well and inquires after his neighbor, the whole world seems glad, and so they go.

neighbor, the whole world seems glad, and so they go.

It is an intoxicating season of the year. The moon gets full and smiles benignly down, with a broad grin on his face at the pairs of billing and cooing lovers, who, being caught laughingly escape to the friendly shade of the trees. The cattle, even, in their quiet way, enjoy the change, and quietly lie in the shade during the day or bask in the moonlight at night. The dogs, in their delight at the intoxicating results of the heavy dew, languidly glance out of the corner of their nigh eye at the passer-by and refuse to bark.

After the heavy business during the day of the fall months it is a pleasure to be able to enjoy the evening, and there can be nothing that will make a man feel happier than a full moon, a quiet cow and a peaceful dog.

Colored People's Barratry.

Colored People's Barratry.

From the Savannah, Ga., Recorder. This morning a worthy colored woman who This morning a worthy colored woman who sells chinkapins in the city market was approached by a bold and slattenly looking colored woman, who asked the price of the nuts, at the same time filling the huge orifice of her face, which a bountiful and good-natured Providence designed as a mouth. She applied herself vigorously to the destruction of the chinkapins, and when five cents worth was dealt out, the would-be-purchaser refused to buy. The huckster spoke kindly but firmly to her when the insulted colored deadbeat went to Magistrate Isaac Russell's office and had the dispenser of nuts arrested on a warrant charging her with breach of the peace. She was arrested and paid $5, and in turn. She was arrested and paid $5, and in turn, had the fraud arrested, so that $10 were spent for a few worthless nuts. In this manner and for such trifling causes are hundreds of dollars spent needlessiy every year by a class of people who can ill'afford it.

The Plaint of a Decatur Girl.

From the DeKalb County, Ga., News.

I'll declare, your boys are just too good to us. You give dances and picnics and go to no end of trouble and expense all for our sakes, and, I am ashamed to say, we repay you only with our smiles. If you send us nice melons or fruit, or other delightful things to eat, we sit down and do so without thinking of asking you to join us. A tea party is an unheard of thing in Decatur. We don't pretend to throw thing in Decatur. We don't pretend to throw open our homes and invite you to informal dances. As I am one of the girls, I don't hesitate to say that we, in 'Decatur, are poor entertainers. Now, girls, let's do better this winter and not let the boys furnish all the

He has several varieties of fine winter apples, on which he realizes handsome profits by selling; them at retail here and in Atlants. He says he also sells a considerable quantity of Bell pears, for preserving, for which he gets 80 cents a peck. Cato's example is worthy of imitation. Instead of making a handful of cotton on his place (only three acres) each year he has set out and carefully read a nice. year he has set out and carefully reared a nice young orchard, which affords him a steady and permanent income.

A Big Dinner.

From the Cochran, Ga, Bauner.

Messrs. W. G. Clark, of Coley's Station, and John Anderson, of Hawkinsville, passed a portion of the day Sunday last, by charitably furnishing ten of the county convicts on Mr.

Walker Jordan's plantation with a free dinner. It was done through a wager between these two gentlemen that the ten could eat a 25 pound sack of flour, the same quantity of meat, 2 gallons of syrup, and 5 pounds of bacon. The negroes failed to accomplish the feat, but were bleesed with a square meal, all the same, while Messis. Anderson and Clark were satisfied with their amount of fun.

A Novel Sight in Gwinnett.

From the Gwinnett, Ga., Herald.

A novel sight was seen in our town last week, an old negro man who lives near Buford had a pistol and some other articles stolen from him by one John Davis, also of the colored persuasion. He followed the thief to Gainesville and had him arrested and committed. The officers deputized the old man to bring his colored brother to jail. After securely tieing him he ordered him to strike ut and in due time he was safely delivered the sheriff. Those Golden Streets.

From the Dahlonega, Ga., Mountain Signal.
"How does this street pan?" said one of our citizens to a lad whom he encountered on last Saturday just after a hard rain, poking about in the street as though he was looking for something, as he was, though he hadn't lost anything. "Tolerably well," said the lost anything. "Tolerably well," said the boy, exhibiting a small nugget of gold about the size of a duck shot and just as round, "there is what I just picked up here. But this morning, down by Captain Kelly's I got twice that much."

A Freak in a Cotton Field.

A Freak in a Cotton Field.

From the Oglethorpe, Ga., Echo.

We find a mysterious freak in a cotton field in Falling Creek that we wish comments on from some of our experienced farmers. The place referred to is a strip about thirty feet long and ten wide, in good cotton, which has withered up and died. On investigating the cause, the top root was found to be rottened completely off. SMART WIDOWS AT SARATOGA. How One of Them Got an Admirer to Wager a Fine Span Against Cigars.
Saratoga Letter in the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Samtoga Letter in the Chlesgo Inter-Ocean.

It was a Chicago lady who this morning won $500 with which to buy bonbons, or bonnets, whichever you like. Ladies are getting to be very fond of betting and they are always pretty safe in their ventures, since they never pay if they lose, and several of them have made some "lucky hits" already this season. It is the fashion now, not only for ladies, but the children also have their betting books, and are as expert in making entries therein as any follower of the turf. It took a Chicago widow to inveigle a bewitched old widower into betting a pair of thoroughbreds against a box of cigars. The widow won, as they usually do, and while we write is this moment dashing by behind the thoroughbreds on her way to the lake, with another man by her side.

These widows are indeed the most artful of creatures, and Saratoga is full of them. There is one pretty and lively woman of this species here who has two engagements on hand at the present and several others impending. She wears two engagement rings on her little ingers, which would be embarhand at the present and several others impending. She wears two engagement rings on her little fingers, which would be embarrassing to most feminines, but not to this sly widow. When lover No. I sits at her side it is his ring which glitters softly upon her finger. The other ring is tucked snugly away in her belt. And if she has not time to remove the ring she turns it artfully around so that it appears an insignificant rim of gold to which nobody could object. This widow, as may be supposed, has a numerous correspondence from love-smitten youths, and her collection of original love letters is something unique. The other day she dropped a package of letters from one of her sweethearts and a rival lover picked it up. This was rather troublesome for the widow, but, as usual, she found her way of escape. There chanced to be another woman of the same name as her own in the place, and she declared the letters belonged to her and naturally sent them to her, having first, however, arranged matters with her namesake by making her a valuable present. ing her a valuable present.

IS NOT AS VALUABLE!

DENVER, Col., Aug. 29, 1882. Gents: I cannot find words with which to express my gratitude to you for the cure your Swift's Specific has affected in my case. I was afflicted with the horrible blood disease for three years, and after spending some time at the Hot Springs, considered my case a hopeless one.

a hopeless one.

I used only one dozen small bottes of S. S. S., and there is not a sign of the disease remaining.

My sores are all healed; my throat is entirely well, and I am rid of the terrible monster.

Being a drug clerk, I have seen on many hundred of the dead.

so many hundreds of men dosed so many hundreds of men dosed with calomel, iodide of mercury and iodide of potash, until they were made complete wrecks, that I shudder to think of the misery which has been brought on the human family by the use of mercurials for blood diseases. It is a crying shame, that physicians will not acknowledge the merit of your GRAND Blood Midicine. Use my name as you wish. I refer you to my present employers, or to Messrs. Colling Bros. St. Louis. I had tried everything, and all the That tried everything, and all the prominent physicians in Buffalo, Rochester and Cleveland, but this only made me worse and broke down my general health with Mercury and Potash. I heard of your medicine and could not get it here—went 100 miles to Salamanco for it. When I begun to not it was in a bad plight. My use it I was in a bad plight. PUBLISHERS' NOTICE.

The Trade of Atlanta

THE CONSTITUTION'S annual review of the trade of Atlanta will be published on Friday, September 15. Every feature of the city's activity will be full: and accurately described-its trade, wholesale and retail, and its varied manufactures to receive par ticular attention. The railroad development will be explained, and all the changes it has wrought especially in real estate values. Atlanta has never known a more prosperous year than the one nov drawing to a close, and her prospects wer ever brighter than they are to-day. All these things will be fully set forth in our annual review. We expecto make it so interesting and valuable that no on interested in the prosperity of the city can afford to do without it. An immense edition will be printed, although the review will fill at least twenty-fou pages of the regular size of THE CONSTITUTION Orders for space in this great issue, or for extra copies, should be handed in, the sooner the bette both for us and our patrons. Early orders will b carefully attended to. Address,

THE CONSTITUTION.

THE signal service bureau report indicate for South Atlantic states to-day, clearing weather, north to west winds, higher baron eter and stationary or higher temperature.

A PRESSURE of other matter prevents the publication to-day of the further subscriptions to the Ben Hill monument fund. has been largely increased and yesterday's and to-day's subscriptions will be given to morrow. The good work is going on well, and the outlook for a worthy memorial of the dead senator is most encouraging.

HeLLAND has been taken by the Dutch again; that is to say, Maine has gone republican. Since Mr. Blaine generally carries the state in his breeches pocket, and it only slipped out once or twice because he was not looking, there is little cause for comment. except to congratulate the Maine democrats that their unholy alliance with greenbackers justly proved a boomerang, as it will wher-

So far as yet heard from the gale of Satur day night, while it was severe, resulted in little er no loss of life, and the damage to cross does not seem to have been excessive For a regulation Georgia cyclone in was harder on Atlanta than usual. To far as damage by wind goes. Curiously enough Atlanta was the center of barometrical depression. The instrument marked a heavier pressure than been taken, and in the recent storm it was lower than at Savannah or in the regular cyclone track. The velocity of the wind was nearly twice as fast as our regular passenger trains run.

A FTER all, the vellow fever has not been s terribly fatal as usual, in spite of the great space it has filled in the daily news of the past few weeks. Summarizing briefly it appears that thus far at Brownsville, where its course has been fiercest, the total number of cases up to date have been 1,539, and out of these only eighty-eight have died, while Pensacola has had only thirteen deaths. There is great cause for being grateful that the fever has not spread up the Mississippi valley. especially since the floods of the spring were so disastrous, and the whole south can feel relieved and assured by the fact that the improved sanitary arrangements and regulations made after the epidemic of 1878 have shown that the disease can be mastered and kept within bonds.

No one has forgotten, no one who knew of it could forget the brutal and bloody murder of old man Hicks last spring-the poor old defenseless, harmless Gwinnett county farmer who was shot down like a dog in the presence of his wife because he was supposed to have made "moonshine" whisky It is now half a year since this unwarrantable crime was committed in the name of the United States marshal, and the murderers are no nearer punishment than they were then. A reminder of this is made by the new indictment by the grand jury of Gwinnett county of General Longstreet's deputies. It remains to be seen if a man can be murdered with impunity in these United States because the murderer wears the badge of a servant of the states.

JUSTICE is mocked in what should be her chief seat-the capital of the country. The result of the trial of the star route robbers is more of a mockery than any public action since "Sylph" Babcock and the other whisky ringsters went scot free and their tool, Mc Donald, suffered. Who of the public knows or cares anything for Miner and Reredell, except in so far as the punishment of any crim inal is desirable. It is in the disagreement on the great rascals, Brady and Dorsey, that the evidence in the case is spurned and justice laughed at. If no one else has done his duty Judge Wylie certainly has performed his, but on the jury and the prosecution, the United States government, is stamped the stigma of woful neglect of duty. The evidence was proof enough to convict, and it did convictihe pigmies; but the giants of the ring probably have done just what they said they were going to, and what members of the jury said had been tried-bribed some juror. Justice will be avenged for the insult. Fortunately, the disagreement of the jury leaves a loophole for putting a new indictment through, brilliant parts and prospects. It would seem, a guarantee of the good faith of the governnent, which is now disgraced.

MR. HILL'S SUCCESSOR.

It is understood that Governor Colquitt i contemplating the appointment of B. H. Hill, Jr., the solicitor general of the Atlanta ircuit, as the successor of Hon. B. H. Hill, late United States senator from this state. While we have nothing to say about Mr. Hill as a successor to his father, we think it would be exceedingly improper in Governor Colquitt to make any appointment to fill this vacancy. The legislature will meet before there is any ession of congress, and to it is given the right to designate who shall be Mr. Hill's successor. There will be four nonths of the unexpired term of Mr. Hill for the person who is selected to serve the state Whether Governor Colquitt makes any appointment or not the coming legislature will ave to elect a senator to fill the unexpired term of Senator Hill, which will be for a term that will expire on the 4th of March, 1883. The legislature will also be required to elect a senator for the term commencing March, 1883, whose term will be for six years. If Mr. Hill had died during the session of congress, there would have been a necessity for an appointment. Governor Colquitt will no doubt be a candi date for the senate for the long term, and this an additional reason why he should not make an appointment at this time for the unexpired term of Mr. Hill.

There will undoubtedly be a number of prominent citizens of Georgia before the legslature for these offices. They are important places, and worthy of the ambition of our

It is the purpose of THE CONSTITUTION not prejudice the claims of a single person who pires to the place, unless some one seeks it in the future who would, in our opinion, do narm to the state; but we propose to keep the people posted on the news, and represent heir feeling in the matter.

We are satisfied that the appointment o any one at this time by Governor Colquitt will create dissatisfaction, simply because there is no necessity for it; and when there is no need for it, it had better be left undone The legislature will meet in a short time. Its members will come fresh from the people, They will have to pass on this matter, anyhow, and they should be permitted to do so without any intimation, we think, from any source, as to who should be or should not be

Mr. Hill's successor. We have not discussed this question, and lo not intend to. We think that the members of the legislature, who are to be elected in October, will be fully competent to make a proper selection. If there is anything improper in the conduct of any public officer who aspires to this place we will deem it our duty to say so.

We will be perfectly satisfied if the question fairly submitted to the legislature. We have no favorites, and only one wish, and that is that we select the best man and most ompetent in the state for both terms.

THE TARIFF COMMISSION'S TOUR.

It is announced that the tariff commission will make a hurried tour of the south. It will visit Atlanta on the 23rd and Savannah on the 25th. As a matter of course, the commission will meet with a courteous reception from our business men, but as there are few interest in this section that need, or pretend that they need, more protection than that afforded by the present tariff, it is not likely that the visit of the commission will be marred by any formal argument, or by the presenta tion of any great amount of statistics. The stay of the commission in Atlanta will be limited to one day-to two days at the outside-ind in that short time the members of the commission will not have time to more than get acquainted with our business men and drive about the city. The truth is, the people of the south, in ommon with the people of the whole coun try, are not in favor of any special tinkering with the tariff in the interest of this or tha monopoly, or this or that manufacturer. They do not want duties reduced or increased in favor of any special interest. On the con trary, they are in favor of a just and reason able revision of the tariff list from beginning to end, in the interest of all classes of tax payers. They were clomering for this just and reasonable revision when the commis sion was established, but various circumstances in connection with the organization of that bod have led them to believe that the commission body was not intended to represent the wishes and desires of the people, but to postpone and delay their fulfillment. It has been charged, indeed, that the commission was organized in the interest of the monopolists, who have grown rich and powerful under the operations of the present system of custom-house taxes imposed during a period of war when the government was desperately put to it to raise revenue. Whether or no these charges are true cannot be known of course until the commission has presented its report. In the neantime, the following letter written by Mr. Robert P. Porter, a member of the com mission, to a prominent public man of Chicago, is significant, to say the least:

cago, is significant, to say the least:

My Pear sir: Fam going to write you some plai bottom facts about the commission. The real fac is the manufacturers themselves take no interest it. They seem to think that the commission we formed for them and will take care of them any how, and, as you and I have experienced in othe matters, they now simply lay back and expect that the commission is to fight their battles for them. They don't even lend us the usual support of their presence in the meetings in the cities which we visit. They may think that this course will pay but they will find out perhaps when it is too late that they have been mistaken, for such treatmen will only tend to make those members of the commission who are not interested in any shape or form whatever in fudustrial enterprise of any king utterly indifferent, and a minority report will by no means under such treatment be an impossibility. The Kochester meeting was a farce At Buffalo, Detroit and Cleveland a few appeared and some important matters were presented. The Indianapolis meeting was on a par, if not worse. bility. The Bochester meeting was a farce. At Buffalo, Detroit and Cleveland a few appeared and some important matters were presented. The Indianapolis meeting was on a par, if not worse, with that at Rochester, and here to-day, in one of the greatest industrial centres, we have had a couple of men presenting their views in regard to pottery and a couple on sheet iron. I have done all that a human being could do to prevent the commission becoming the laughing stock of the country. Aided by Mr. Postgate, who, you know, is with me, we have seen many newspaper men and given them the best phase of the work in progress. But it is hardly possible to keep up this farce throughout the entire country. I do most heartily and earnestly hope that the chicago meeting will be an exception, and fask you in all earnestness to lose no time in seeing the manufacturers and securing for us an invitation from the board of trade for a receoution for the sake of the cause we represent the gothose men who are interested to lend us at least he moral support of their faces and presence at our meeting. The free trade papers will watch the chicago meeting closely. If it is a failure it will be twaterloof of the protectionists.

young man of tact and observation. He sees from an inside point of view what the whole country has feared from the beginningnamely, that the commission is a farce which was in danger of developing into a fraud. Why should this be so? Mr Porter gives the reason very clearly and concisely in his letter. The supposed or alleged apathy of manufacturers will breed indifference among those commissioners who are not pecuniarily interested in industrial enterprises of any kind. and a minority report will by no means be an impossibility. We judge, from the emphasis with which Mr. Porter makes this statement, that a minority report would, in his opinion, be a most horrible affair-horrible enough, in fact, to justify him in writing the very curious letter which we have quoted. The specially horrible thing about a minority report would be the fact that it would sum up matters from the standpoint of the whole people and advocate renuine tariff reform. What could be more horrible than this, from the so-called protect tive standpoint of the monopolists?

Mr. Porter gives another reason in justifica ion of the general idea that the commission is a farce rapidly developing into a fraud. "I ask you in all earnestness," he says to his Chicago correspondent, "to lose no time in seeing the manufucturers and securing for us an invitation from the board of trade for a eception for the sake of the cause we repre ' To what "cause" does Mr. Porter alude? Is it the cause of the people? If it were the cause of the people would it necessary for the commission to drum up receptions? Would they care whether the "free trade papers" were watching closely" or watching at all? If the ommission represents the people, would the failure of the Chicago correspondent to drum up a reception be a Waterloo for the protec-All these things are calculated not only to

It wil strengthen a minority report for the reason that it uncovers the monopolist programme For our part, we believe that there are men on the commission who will give the cause of the people at least a moment's thought, and we believe that report will be presented ninority to congress by Judge John W. Griffin Sun.

We were too much crowded in our last issue to give any comments on this "first gun of the cara paign" fired by Mr. Stephens in Atlanta the week before. We had been led by what we had been told and had read to believe that Mr. Stephens was in his dotage—in a condition that he himself was more in need of a guardian to manage his own affeirs than that he should be entrusted with the guardian-ship of the state's interests. The reading of that speech has convinced us that we had a mistaken idea—that instead of being in his dotage, his mind is as clear and his thoughts flow with all the free-dom of vigorous manhood. Old in years, feeble in body, as a delicate woman in statue, he possesses a mind that is never confused. We were mistaken, and we are glad that speech has corrected the error.

The Campaign

Since Mr. Stephens spoke in Atlanta there he en a marked improvement in the campaign. Th tue issues were outlined and the address fairl true issues were outlined and the address ramy sparkled with sentences that conveyed great truthe in the most memorable language. One cause of the apathy of which we hear so much was that the masses waited for just such a keynote. Another cause was found in the overwhelming democratic majority. A nomination was considered equivalent to an election; so thousands of persons were about their ordinary business and became in different to what had been made to appear a danger sufficiently momentars to about their ordinary different to what had been appear a danger sufficiently mo recall the party to its duty. Again; active faction has helped demorally. The republicans, trembling for the Washington, in the next house and the washington in the next house and the same than the same Again: a small by Washington, in the next house and the next press dential election, have been spurred to exertions of an unprecedented character, and a part of their general plan to prevent overwhelming dis aster is to take advantage of whatever weak ness could be found in the ranks of the south ern democracy. Hence their welcome to all kind of deserters and apostates and marplots in this section. It matters not what kind of a man such a southerner may be, just so he is at war with the organized democracy. On such a platform, the leading spirits of the Jacobins claim alliance with any southern malcontent. They consider that such a man, though professing to be a democrat, ireally doing work for them that no republican could accomplish. And they are right. Whatever conspires to weaken the Jeffersonian democracy is a prepotent instrument for the perpetuation of radical rule in the republic and a restoration of the legislative lafamies that followed in the track of war. There are young men who will vote at the next election to whom the Thaddeus stevens villainy is a myth of history. It was the most direful experience that ever befell their fathers. No horror of the war itself could compare with the moustrostites that followed it. Now, these young men should be guided by the experience of their elders who suffered from these horrors and conquered them only, by prodigious sacrifices, extreme measures and iong-enduring trials. In that ear of reconstruction the women of the state were giad to fill the men with ardor and enthusiasen. giad to fill the men with ardor and enthusiae we spurned the baffled monster from enthusiae and homes become had to fill the men with ardor and enthusiasm we spurned the baffled monster from our hearts and homes, because it threatened the holiest affect ons and simed a deadily blow at society and civil cation. We find to-day that the same old enemy ariously disguised, is plotting to return to power hat enemy has no hope of success outside of outners to operation. If ever there was a time to evive the courage, the unanimity, the enthusiasm of the e evive the courage, the unanimity, the enthusiasm, he determination, the organization of he democratic party, it is now, when he same enemy is a our gates, boasting of our upathy, and harmonizing all discordant elements to adicalize Georgia. Great God! The thought of such a conspiracy ought to, as Mr. Stephens said, ire the souls of every white man and woman to anite for repelling the infernal foe who comes in such masquerade as suits his parpose! How would the living voice of Ben Hill ring out and shame men to their duty, if they could not be otherwise inflamed! That voice is silent, but the tomb itself should not confine it. Our of the sepulcher let it swell over the state as it did enswhile. We cannot behold our dead Demosthenes in the flesh; hut his spirit walks abroad and makes memory vocal. His last wish was to leave an address to the people of Georgia, warning them of their dianger, and calling upon them to rise in their might and expel the serpent of centralism, as he and his fel ow citizens scotched it in the old days, when a great despair had settled upon the commonwealth. Let every true democrat in Georgia interpret for himself what the matchless. Hill would say at this time, and let the young men especially see to it that, by no device of Longstreet, Locke or any other opponent of the regular organization, anything that savors of radical domination shall insult the grave or wound the spirit of Benjamin H. Hill.

A RESUME OF THE PAST YEAR'S

Less Than Five and a Half Million Bales for the Fotal-Receipts at Different Ports-The Over-land Movement-The Georgia Crop-Movements at Interior Towns.

From the New York Financial Chronicle. Our statement of the cotton crop of the United States for the year ending September 1, 1882, will be found below. It will be seen that the total crop this year reaches 5,435,845 bales, while the exports are 3,595,031 bales, and the spinners' takings are 1,661,206 bales. leaving a stock on hand at the close of the year of 120,722 bales. The whole movement for the twelve months is given in the following table, with such suggestions and expla nations as the peculiar features of the year appear to require. The first table indicates the stock at each port September 1, 1882, the receipts at the ports for each of the past two years, and the export movement for the past year (1881-82) in detail, and the totals for hese figures are only the portion of receipts at these ports which arrived by rail overland from Tennessee, etc.

By the above it will be seen that the total By the above it will be seen that the total receipts at the Atlantic and Gulf shipping ports this year have been 4,720,364 bales against 5,874,090 bales last year, and the exports 3,595,031 bales (against 4,596,279 bales last season), Liverpool getting out of this crop 2,311,790 bales. If now we add the shipments from Tennessee and elsewhere direct to manufacturers, and southern consumption, we have the following as the crop statement for the two years:

year ago was only temporary and due to ex-ceptional causes mentioned by us at that time. For, leaving out that year, the devel-opment has been constant and decided. Thus in 1873-74 this movement covered only about ched over 20 per cent; furthermore, during the same period, while the crop was increasing 30.34 per cent the overland increased 128.09 per cent. A growth continued through so many seasons is an indication of a natural tendency towards development which special causes can only temporarily check. THE GEORGIA CROP.

ELEMENTS AT WAR.

The Storm of Saturday Night and Sunday Morning

The Storm of Saturday Night and Sunday Morning and the Damage Done.

A descructive storm visited Atlanta and many sections of the state Saturday night and Sunday. There was no indication Saturday of a storm except a slight falling of the barometer. A drizzling rain began to fall Saturday at 4:35 p. m., and gradually increased until nine, when it fell in torrents, falling off after that and quitting entirely at 10:31 Saturday night, thirty-five hundredths of an inch of rain having fallen. The first heavy wind came at 10 o'clock Saturday night, and at half past 10 the wind was blowing twenty miles per hour. That was by no means a "storm," and but little notice was taken of it. At 2 o'clock Sunday morning the wind rapidly became fiercer, and in an hour or so was blowing at from thirty-eight to forty miles an hour. The highest wind was at 5 o'clock Sunday morning, when the instrument in the signal office recorded 41 miles per hour. When Sergeant Hall took the observation at 6:31 Sunday morning the wind was blowing at a rate of 36 miles per hour and the barometer was down to 29.37—lower than at any other point in the south during the storm and the lowest barometer since the office was established here. The wind did not appear to blow in gusts but was very regular. It continued to calm until it went down to twenty-five miles an hour and kept at that speed until yesterday, when it varied between 17 and 21 during the day. The rainfall from the opening of the storm, Saturday, to its close, was two inches and sixty-one hundredth. Nearly an inch and a third of fall from the opening of the storm, Saturday, to its close, was two inches and sixty-one hundredth. Nearly an inch and a third of rain fell between 10:31 Saturday night and 6:31 Sunday morning. The fall of the baronieter was astonishingly great. In eight hours it fell nearly an inch. At 10:31 Saturday night it was 29.81 and at 6:31 Sunday morning it was 29.81, and at 6:31 Sunday morning it was 29.81. The next lowest baronieter was in Augusta, where it was down to 29.51. The rainfall at the southern stations was as follows: Mobile 2.04 inches, Montgomery 3.10 inches, Pensacola 4.52 inches, Savannah 1.64 inches, Augusta 1.39. At 6:30 a.m. Sunday the wires to Pensacola were down and no subserved.

wires to Pensacola were down and no subsequent reports were received from that place. The wires to Key West and Port Eads were

THE DAMAGE IN THE CITY. The lamage in the city was very great, although no injury to persons was done and no serious loss to any single individual was sustained. Perhaps the loss that is most parent and will be most regreted was the destruction of shade trees and shrubbery. Upon every street shade trees were blown down, and yesterday the people were busy in cutting them up and clearing them away. Signs and awrings were blown down and in several instances heavy tin awnings were thrown tances heavy tin awnings were thrown own. Luckily no one was struck, bute a number of houses were injured. The walls of the new match factory building on Wheat street building on Wheat street gave way and the roof fell in. Several turrets were blown from the First Methodist church. The roof of Mc-minding of wheat steed galve way and the roof fell in. Several turiets were blown from the First Methodist church. The roof of McCombs & Meakin's foundry was partially blown off. The church at West End was lifted from its foundation and partially tilted over. The fences throughout the city was a lifted over. The fences throughout the city down and about forty dogs were wellnigh ruined. Everitt's dog ranche on Houston street blew down and about forty dogs were set at liberty. They were all finally caught, however. Kries the bill boards were blown down and it is add that his loss will reach $1,000. Nearly every house in Atlanta leaked during the rain, which was driven against the roofs with terrific force.

Through the states.

Mahy telegraph wires were blown down and on some fines there was no means of communication as late as yesterday. The railroads did not suffer as much as might reasonably have been expected. The West Point, the Air-Line and the Georgia Pacific all escaped injury. The Macon branch of the Georgia road was washed between Milledgeville and Macon, but the extent and character of the damage could not be ascertained as the wires were down. A tree blew scross the Western and Atlantic railroad near Smyrna and delayed a train for about ten minutes.

The damage to crops was considerable, and fences and trees were blown down in many parts of the state, while in some places houses were unroofed, corn was beat down and cotton was threshed about in a way that must injure it considerably. Commissioner Henderson said yesterday:

"I have news from as far down as Milledgewille and as far un as Cologed Peters's plantajure it considerably. Commissioner Henderson said yesterday:

"I have news from as far down as Milledgeville and as far up as Colonel Peters's plantation in Gordon county. Torrents of rain fell everywhere, At all points the wind was heavy, but was especially severe in the neighborhood of Norcross and near Griffin. I cannot estimate the damage to the crops on such limited information as I have. The corn is very generally beat down and cotton is tangled badly. Cotton that was open was beat out and will be injured, and while the squares were beaten from the young cotton. I would advise the farmers that where the corn is down to immediately raise it up and corn is down to immediately raise it up and pack the dirt about the roots with the foot Cotton might be treated in the same manner. But these are matters that most farmers al eady know about."

DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND.

It is well known to physicians, and alas! too well It is well known to physicians, and alas! too well known to suffering women themselves, that they are subject to numerous diseases peculiar to their sex, such as suppression of the Menses, painful and scanty Menstruation, Congestion, Ufceration and Falling of the Womb, attended with an endless train of sympathetic and constitutional disorders, which embitters the whole life, and which have long been considered as almost incurable. But at last the remedy has been found in But at last the remedy has been found in

Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator. It is not a "cure all," but a remedy for one class of diseases, all of which pertain to the Womn.

Any sufferer from the diseases mentioned can take this remedy, and thus relieve herself without revealing her condition to any one, and without subjecting her womanly modesty to the shock of revealing her condition to any one, and without subjecting her womanly modesty to the shock of an examination by a physician.

To bring health and happiness to the homes of suffering women is a mission before which royal favor sinks into insignificance. What earthly benefaction can compare with one which protects from "That dire discase whose ruthless power Withers beauty's trancient flower?"

which gives ease for pain, joy for sorrow, smiles for tears, the rose of health for the pallor of discases, the light, elastic step for dragging weariness, rights of soft repose for heavy hours of tossing ruess, the sweet light, for for hanguishing duilness, the sweet light for grown beauty for the sharp and withered form of grown beauty for the sharp and withered form of grown beauty for the sharp and withered form of pain and gloom, ending in an early grave? Such is the mission, such are the results of Dr. J. Bradfield's France the results of Dr. J. Bradfield's France the womb so destructive to the health, happiness and beauty of women, disappear like magic before a single bottle of this wonderful compound.

"Whites," and all those irregularities of the womb so destructive to the health, happiness and beauty of women, disappear like magic before a single bottle of this wonderful compound.

This transcription and of these diseases are most earnestly invited in give this great remedy a trial. It has cured iousands, and will cure you. Don't fail to try it.

HON, GEORGE T. BARNES.

Invited by the Stephens Club to Speak in Atlanta His Reply. The Stephens club of Atlanta is going to take an active part in the campaign. It was the desire of the club to have Hon. George T. Barnes to make the opening speech for them as the following correspondence shows:

ATLANCA. Ga.. September 7th, 1882.—To Hon. George T. Barnes, Augusta, Ga.—Dear Sir: At a meeting of the Atlanta Stephens club held ast night a resolution was unanimously passed instructing the subioined commonstructing the subioined com-club held last night a resolution was unanimously passed instructing the subjoined committee to extend a hearty invitation to you to address the club and the citizens of this county upon the pending political issues at such time as may suit your convenience trusting, however, that you may select as early a day as possible. We beg to say that in extending this invitation the members of the club have desired to recognize the admitted purity, ability and integrity that mark both your private and public character and to enjoy the benefit of your experience in public matters. We sincerely hope that you will accept the invitation. We have the honor to remain, with the highest consideration, your obedient servants,

FRANK L. HARALSON CLARENCE E. MOORE, W. W. THURMON, J. D. LAWTON, PORTER KING, J. H. LUMPKIN, JOHN M. GRAHAM, COMMITTEE.

COLONEL BARNES'S REPLY. AUGUSTA, Ga., September 9, 1882.—Gentle-men: Your kind letter of the 7th instant, in men: Your kind letter of the 7th instant, in behalf of the Young Men's Stephens club, inviting me to address the club and the citizens of Fulton county, on the political issues of the campaign, and asking me to name as early a day as possible for a compliance with your invitation, has just been received. I am desirous of acceding to your request, but I regret that other engagements at this time prevent me from naming a day when I could be with you. I expect, however, to pass through Atlanta in the course of the next few days, at which time I will endeavor to see the chairman of your committee, and if possible fix on some date when L deavor to see the chairman of your committee, and if possible fix on some date when I might hope to be able to address your club. I need not assure you, gentlemen, that my heart beats in full sympathy with the objects of your association. The importance of the present canvass has not been fully appreciated. Our radical foes are now seeking the disintegration of the democratic party in the south, preparatory to the grand campaign of 1884, with the view of perpetuating radical power and misrule. If by the overthrow of the democracy in our local state government now, they succeed in making dissension in our ranks, they will have nade a long step towards securing the ends which they have towards securing the ends which they have in view. Trejoice to see that through organ-izations like your own our people are being aroused to the necessity of uniting together aroused to the necessity of uniting together to keep this glorious old commonwealth steady at the head of the democratic column. I bid you god speed in your noble efforts, and trust that they will be crowned with complete and overwhelming success.

With my thanks for the complimentary terms in which you have addressed me, believe me gentlement very truly and respect.

lieve me, gentlemen, very truly and respect ully your friend. Good. T. Barnes. To Messrs, Haralson, Moore, Thurmon, Lawton, King, Lampkin and Graham, Com-mittee.

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL. What The Constitution Saw Yesterday at the Kim-

Yesterday afternoon, while a Constitution man was meandering through the corridors of the Kimball, he was introduced to an intelligent young gentleman from Ergland, Mr. Samuel K. Yarwood, now traveling from New York. Leading the reporter into a room close at hand, Mr. Yarwood uncovered something as new and certainly as useful as one would ever desire to see.

"That," said the commercial was

That," said the commercial man, "is a specialty bonse is making, and we intend to have them

"That, said the commercial man, "is a specially my house is making, and we intend to have them here in quantities soon."

Reference was made to a very beautiful genuine St. Germain or German study lamp, of the original patent. It was of exquisite design, the globe and fount being made of bohemian, decorated in an artistic manner.

"What we claim," said Mr. Yarwood, "is great beauty and finish, together with our new none, mbustible wick, the top of the latter being made of asbestos, thus giving always an even surface and needing no attention."

These lamps are from the house of C. F. A. Hinrichs, 23, 31 and 33 Park Place, New Yerk, one of the largest importers and dealers in fancy goods in the metropolis, selling annually over $1,800,000. Mc-Bride & Co. are the agents in Atlanta for these beautiful lamps, which will no doubt have a ready saie. Mr. Yarwood will be in the city some three or four days. He is a genial, courteous gentleman, and will be pleased to wait upon the trade in room 65, Kimball house.

oughly renovated by the new proprietors, Messrs. Byington & Rushing. Mr. B. is one of the most thorough and practical hotel men in the south, and we must congratulate Macon upon having secured such good proprietors for their pride hotel. These gentlemen have already brought the hotel up to its old standard, and will soon have in other improvements that will make it rank among the best hotels of the country. We will mention just one item here that may be of interest. Messrs B. & R. shipped to the Lanjer last week $3,000 worth wines and liquors for use in their hotel, and we believe to-day their wine cellar will compare with, or surpass anything in the south.

Thompson's Restaurant.

"The right man in the right place," is a well known saying, and how apily does it apply to Thompson in the restaurant business. The palace dining rooms on Alabama street, looked neat and pleasant when he purchased them, but he was not satisfied, and by a indiction use of paint, varnish, papering; extra light and ventilation, he now has as pretty and commanded an establishment as can be found in the city. His efforts to serve the public has not been confined to ornamenting or improving his reoms alone as his tables are now supplied with rice birds, oysters, as well as other delicacies and everything substantial.

ELEGANT ESTABLISHMENT

One of the most attractive and elegant establishments in Atlanta, is the handsome jewelry store of A F Pickert, No 5 Whitehall street. His superband tastefully arranged stock claims the admiration of all who see it, and a visit to his establishment is always pleasant and interesting, for aside from the attractions of a pretty and stylish stock of jewelry, he has just received a large stock of the celebrated Meriden Britania company's silverware, some elegant designs in tea sets, water sets, baking dishes, with porcelain lining, something handsome, and many other goods too numerous to mention. These goods are the heaviest triple plate, and the inest finished goods in the world. Go to No 5 Thitehall street and see them.

Regular Monthly Session-Investigating Charges Against Officers-The New Commissioner. The board of police commissioners convened in regular session last night. There were present Commissioner Fox. chairman; Commissioner Goldsmith, secretary, and Commissioners Crane and Hancock, and Com-

Commissioner Goldsmith, secretary, and Commissioners Crane and Hancock, and Commissioner elect, W. H. Frizzell, who, after the reading of the journal of the last meeting, subscribed to the oath of office presented.

The station house keeper's report showed that during the month ninety-six state cases had been docketed and that fifty-six of them had been prosecuted and forty-three had been released for want of prosecution; that three hundred and thirty four meals had been furnished the county at a cost of sixteen dollars and seventy cents, and that twenty dollars and seventy cents had been collected for locking up prisoners and furnishing meals.

Officer Casper H. Brenning was requested to answer to the charge of being intoxicated while on duty. He plead not guilty, and Captains Aldridge and Bagby and Station house Keeper Foute testified for the prosecution. They were unanimous in stating that in their opinion the accused was under the influence of liquor, but they disagreed as to whether he was on duty or not at the time specified in the charge, the 10th of September.

Captain Couch and Officers Joyner and Mercer testified for the defendant. Captain Couch had seen the accused while upon duty on the day specified. cer testified for the defendant. Captain Couch had seen the accused while upon duty on the day specified, and detected no indications of being drunk. On the contrary he thought him duly sober. Officer Joyner's evidence was of the same character as Captain Couch's, while the officer who relieved him at breakfast time did not supect him of being drunk. Officer Brenning in his statement denied having been drunk and claimed that his conduct, which induced the belief that he was drunk, was caused by the great excitement under which he was laboring at the time. The board disposed of the case by voting the accused guilty and suspending him from duty for dive days.

Officers Nat West and Alex Goodson were charged with conduct unbecoming officers officers Nat west and Alex Goodson were charged with conduct unbecoming officers and plead not guilty. The specifications were that on the 9th day of September the two officers did engage in a personal difficulty at the station house. At the conclusion of the evidence Officer Goodson was voted guilty and was suspended from duty for twenty days, while Mr. West was also declared guilty and was suspended five days.

while Mr. West was also declared guilty and was suspended five days.

J. F. Hildebrand's resignation as a supernumerary member of the police force was accepted. Officers W. A. Dennard and J. I. Glover tendered their resignations as members of the police force. Chief Connolly was granted a leave of absence for six days. The chief was instructed to order a guard inspection day on the tenth of October, so as to ascertain the condition of the members' winter uniforms.

Supernumerary Ivy was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Officer Glover. R. B. Harris, R. H. Clark and J. K. Hunter were elected supernumeraries.

Upon motion the board adjourned.

A Singular Coincidence. Major T. H. Blacknall, the enterprising representative of Blackwell's Durham to-bacco, was born in the same year with Mr. Green T. Dodd. They are of exactly the same height, wear the same number of hat and shoe, weigh the same to an ounce, and neither of them smoke, drink or chew.

How and V'here the Money Went.

At the 147th gran i monthly drawing of the Louistana State I otter; at New Orleans, Tuesday, August 8th, 1882, the wheel of fortune under the sole management of Generals G T Beauregard of Louisiana, and Jubal A Early of Virginia. (*s it is always), turned out lucky awards in this style—among many of those whose names are withheld by request. Ticket No 56.021, the first capital prize, drew 75.000. It was sold in fifths at one dollar each to J A Burks, station agent, N O P R R, at Robeline station, Louisiana: D W Sweeney, of Dodd City, Texas, collected through Faunin county bank of Bonham, Texas. Ticket No 16.833 drew the second prize of $25.000—was sold in Chicago. Ills. Ticket No 38,456, sold in fifths at one dollar each, drew the third capital prize of $10.00—to John Reed, of Bloomington, Ills; to G G Reeve, of Lyons, Wis, etc. The two fourth capital prizes of $6.000 each, sold in fifths, were won by tickets No 38,874 and 74,48s—sold to W W Holloway, 7 South 3d street, La Fayette, Indiana, college through the LaFayete national bank; to Daniel Breyl, 181 South Clark street, Chicago, Ills, etc. The scheme of the company recently adopted offering $75,0 0 and so on has net vith, much deserved approbation. Farticulars can be had of M A Daudiin, New Orleans, La, before the next drawing on October 10th. scott2—dawit

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE. At the expiration of Alderman Beerman's term of office, the south side of the railroad will have no immediate representative in the aldermanic board, as there are two of the ones holding over from the north side. Justice demands that Alderman Beermann's successor should be from the south side of Atlanta and they present the name of that old, tried public spirited citizen, Major John H. Mecaslin, as a suitable man to fill the place and one that will be supported by the whole people of Atlanta.
